

LISTENING TO THE IN-BETWEEN

Extreme Slow Walk - Listening to the In-Between

Wednesday 05-10-2022, ArtEZ Zwolle, Rhijnvis Feithlaan 50 & Aan de Stadsmuur 88

ArtEZ Studium Generale and the master Corpo-real present some groundbreaking participatory workshops around the Body and Power(lessness). Tune yourself to the world in Extreme Slow Walks and explore power relations in workshops (re)searching spatial, bodily and mental powers at the Corpo-real Lab.

We offer you some great workshops based on the work of the legendary American composer Pauline Oliveros, who spent her life exploring listening and developing community. In her Sonic Meditations (1974) she developed processes, in the form of text scores, to connect our inner and outer worlds through sonic attention and awareness. The concept of Deep Listening[®] has inspired many people worldwide.

12.30-12:45 Courtyard, Sophiagebouw: Welcome

Mirjam Zegers, curator Studium Generale Zwolle will introduce today's programme.

13.00-14.00 & 14.30-15:30 Workshop Extreme Slow Walk

Deep Listeners[®] Sharon Stewart (ArtEZ researcher and teacher) and

Ed McKeon (curatorial producer, researcher and writer) will guide participants in an Extreme Slow Walk and other grounding exercises.

13.00-14.00 & 14.30-15:30 Workshop INTIMAL App[®]

Researcher and Deep Listener Ximena Alarcón will telematically, from the UK, guide a collective experience with her INTIMAL App[®], connecting participants' movements with voices of others and themselves, listening to the in-between of real life and dreams, past and present, inside and outside worlds.

13.00-14.00 & 14.30-15:30 Workshop Spread Power by Space

In this workshop you will (re)search spatial, bodily and mental powers together with students of the master Interior Architecture at the Corpo-real Lab. Investigate the relationship between power and space. Explore the space with your body and research by making.

15.30-17.30 Wrap-up & drinks + snacks

Workshop leaders

Sharon Stewart

13:00-14:00 & 14:30-15:30

Extreme Slow Walk (Park, Sophiagebouw)

Sharon Stewart studied at the Utrecht School of the Arts, Faculty of Music, and the Royal Conservatoire, The Hague. She has a private piano practice in Arnhem, creates (electroacoustic) sound works and installations, serves as Associate Editor of the Journal of Sonic Studies, and is currently an independent researcher for the Professorship Theory in the Arts at ArtEZ University of the Arts in the Netherlands.

Ed McKeon

13:00-14:00 & 14:30-15:30

Extreme Slow Walk (Courtyard, Conservatory)

Ed McKeon works with musicians and artists at the points where music indisciplines others—whether theatre, installation, or performance—collaborating with artists from Pauline Oliveros to Heiner Goebbels, Jennifer Walshe to Brian Eno. He has presented Hear and Now (BBC Radio 3); was artistic director of the British Composer Awards; and remains Vice Chair of the ISCM's British section.

Ximena Alarcón

13:00-14:00 & 14:30-15:30

INTIMAL App[®] (Courtyard, Sophiagebouw)

Ximena Alarcón is a sound artist-researcher interested in listening to our sonic migrations: in-between sonic spaces manifested in dreams, underground public transport and cultural and technological mediations in the migratory context. She is a Deep Listening[®] tutor, with a PhD in Music Technology and Innovation. Throughout her career, she has created telematic sonic improvisations and interfaces for relational listening, to understand sensorially her and others' migratory experience, as if in search of a collective interface that holds such sonic in-betweenness

Corpo-real

13:00-14:00 & 14:30-15:30

Workshops (LAB, Sophiagebouw)

In this workshop you will (re)search spatial, bodily and mental powers together with students of the master Interior Architecture at the Corpo-real Lab. Investigate the relationship between power and space. Explore the space with your body and research by making.

Wrap up & Drinks

15:30-17:30, Kantine

Drinks and snacks (Kantine, Sophiagebouw)

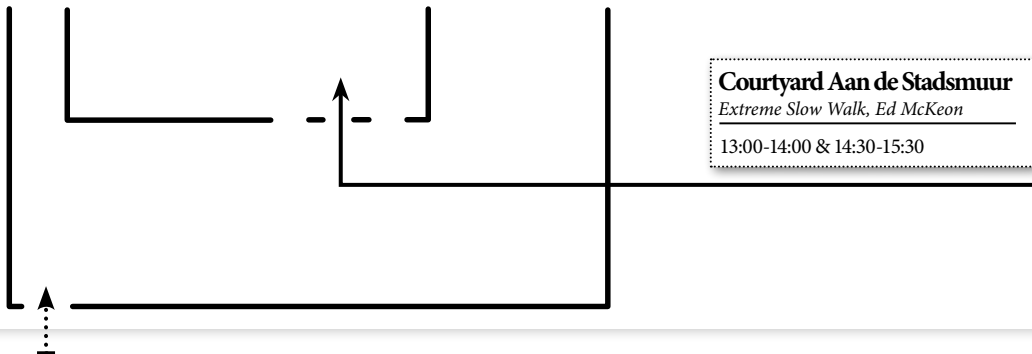

Listening to the In-Between: What Did We Hear? with drinks and snacks at the kanteen Conversation with Ed McKeon, Sharon Stewart, and Ximena Alarcón (online), hosted by Mirjam Zegers. Also in live stream, so that everyone can join in, also from a distance.
