Each one of the friends, fictional characters, relatives, stars or heroines of history in the posters has been important for the personal growth of a pupil ready to graduate high school. Formal education is only one way to learn. A Yoruba proverb puts it this way; it takes a village to raise a child.

This project took inspiration from the Système de Grands Frères, a grassroots movement in Cameroon's cities. So-called Grands Frères and Grandes Soeurs are tutors for younger artists.
